PART I

ITEM 1. BUSINESS

Overview

Xiamen Lutong International Travel Agency Co. Ltd. (the "Company", "we", "us", "our" and similar terminology) was incorporated under the name "Highlight Networks, Inc." in the state of Nevada on June 21, 2007. Our original plan was to engage in the business of planning, development and operation of both private and public access wireless broadband networks using WiFi (IEEE 802.11) and WiMAX (IEEE 802.16) wireless technologies. In 2013, the Company commenced a new business venture in recycling, refining, metals trading and assisting in metal recovery, with a focus on precious metals refining from electronic waste.

On June 5, 2015, the Company experienced a change of control as a result of the purchase of 98% of its issued and outstanding capital stock from Infanto Holding Corp. by Legacy International Holdings Group, LLC and Allied Crown Enterprises Limited. The Company's then operating subsidiary, EZ Recycling, Inc., was spun off and as a result the Company reverted to the shell company status.

On January 29, 2018, pursuant to a stock purchase agreement dated January 26, 2018, Xiamen Lutong International Travel Agency Co., Ltd. (an entity controlled by Qiyi Zheng, the Company's Chairman of the Board) purchased 57,000,000 shares of common stock of the Company, representing 98% of the outstanding voting securities of the Company. Following this change of control, the Company changed its name to Xiamen Lutong International Travel Agency Co., Ltd. and changed its business plan to engage in travel businesses in the People's Republic of China. Such 98% interest in our company was subsequently transferred to Longhai Yougoubao Network Technology Co. Ltd., a related party also controlled by Mr. Zheng ("Longhai").

From June 2015 to date of this Report, the Company has not commenced its planned business and presently has no business operations, revenues or assets and thus is and has been a "shell company" as defined by Rule 405 of the Securities Act.

Plan of Operation

We plan to offer packaged tours and other travel-related services in the People's Republic of China, initially in Fujian province, with a focus on developing, promoting and executing organized tours through our travel service stores. The packaged tours offer the benefits of pre-arranged itineraries, transportations, accommodations, entertainments, meals and tour guide services and cover domestic as well as international destinations. We plan to offer our travel products and services through our travel service stores as well as our website.

We also plan to offer other travel-related services comprised mainly of sales of tourist attraction tickets, visa application services, financial services, hotel booking services, air ticketing services, train ticketing services, bus ticketing services, car rental services and insurance services. We will earn a commission or service fee on these services.

We have been evaluating the optimal approaches to implement these plans, including through mergers and acquisitions of other travel agencies in China. We were assessing a number of potential merger targets in China during late 2019 and early 2020. This work has been suspended due to the COVID-19 pandemic outbreak as travel agencies throughout the world have been significantly impacted by this pandemic. The extent of the impact of COVID-19 pandemic on our ability to execute on its business plans and initiatives will depend upon the developments of the pandemic, including the duration and spread of the COVID-19 and lockdown restrictions imposed by the respective global governments and oversight bodies, and tourists' confidence over local and oversea travels after the pandemic. All of these are factors are uncertain and cannot be easily estimated given the novelty of the coronavirus and the facts and the world is still going through the pandemic. Given the dynamic nature of pandemic situation, we cannot reasonably estimate the impacts the COVID-19 on the timeline to implement its business plan. Until we are able to implement its business plan, we will remain a shell company.

The following discussion and analysis of our results of operations and financial condition should be read together with our audited financial statements and the notes thereto, which are included elsewhere in this Report. Our financial statements have been prepared in accordance with U.S. GAAP.

Overview

We were incorporated under the name "Highlight Networks, Inc." in the state of Nevada on June 21, 2007. Our original business plan was to engage in the business of planning, development and operation of both private and public access wireless broadband networks using WiFi (IEEE 802.11) and WiMAX (IEEE 802.16) wireless technologies. In 2013, we commenced a new business venture in recycling, refining, metals trading and assisting in metal recovery, with a focus on precious metals refining from electronic waste.

On June 5, 2015, we experienced a change of control as a result of the purchase of 98% of our issued and outstanding capital stock from Infanto Holding Corp. by Legacy International Holdings Group, LLC and Allied Crown Enterprises Limited. Our then operating subsidiary, EZ Recycling, Inc., was spun off and as a result we reverted to the shell company status.

On January 29, 2018, pursuant to a stock purchase agreement dated January 26, 2018, Xiamen Lutong International Travel Agency Co., Ltd. purchased 57,000,000 shares of our common stock from our then majority stockholder, Jose R. Mayorquin, representing 98% of the voting securities of our company. Following this change of control, we changed our name to Xiamen Lutong International Travel Agency Co., Ltd. and changed our business plan to engage in travel businesses in the People's Republic of China.

From June 2015 to date, we had no business operations, revenues or assets and has been a shell company as defined by Rule 405 of the Securities Act.

We plan to offer other travel-related services comprised mainly of sales of tourist attraction tickets, visa application services, financial services, hotel booking services, air ticketing services, train ticketing services, bus ticketing services, car rental services and insurance services. We will earn a commission or service fee on these services.

We are presently evaluating the optimal corporate and legal structures in China necessary to establish our business there and as a U.S. publicly listed and reporting company. The Company has been evaluating the optimal approaches to implement these plans, including through mergers and acquisitions of other travel agencies in China. The Company was assessing a number of potential merger targets in China during late 2019 and early 2020. This work has been suspended due to the COVID-19 pandemic outbreak as travel agencies throughout the world have been significantly impacted by this pandemic. The extent of the impact of COVID-19 pandemic on the Company' s ability to execute on its business plans and initiatives will depend upon the developments of the pandemic, including the duration and spread of the COVID-19 and lockdown restrictions imposed by the respective global governments and oversight bodies, and tourists' confidence over local and oversea travels after the pandemic. All of these are factors are uncertain and cannot be easily estimated given the novelty of the coronavirus and the facts and the world is still going through the pandemic. Given the dynamic nature of pandemic situation, Company cannot reasonably estimate the impacts the COVID-19 on the timeline to implement its business plan. Until the Company is able to implement its business plan, the Company will remain a shell company.

Results of Operations for the Years Ended June 30, 2020 and 2019

Revenues

There was no revenue for the years ended June 30, 2020 and 2019, respectively.

General and Administrative Expense

During the years ended June 30, 2020 and 2019, we incurred $40,600 and $40,477 in general and administrative expenses, respectively. Our general and administrative expenses primarily consisted of audit fees, accounting fees, legal fees and filing fees, which are routine costs incurred as a public company.

Other Expense

During the years ended June 30, 2020 and 2019, we incurred $25,612 and $25,612 in interest expenses, respectively. The interest expenses were solely related to the note payable due to a related party.

Net Loss

As a result of the foregoing, we had a net loss of $66,212 and $66,089 for the years ended June 30, 2020 and 2019, respectively.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

Cash Flows from Operating Activities

Net cash used in operating activities was $42,578 for the year ended June 30, 2020, compared to net cash used in operating activities of $40,950 for the year ended June 30, 2019, representing a small increase of $1,628 in the net cash outflow in operating activities. Since we are a shell company, cash used in operating activities were fully funded by our controlling stockholder as is reflected in the accompanying statements of cash flows.

Cash Flows from Financing Activities

Net cash provided by financing activities for the year ended June 30, 2020 was $42,578 as compared to $40,950 for the year ended June 30, 2019, which represented the amounts contributed by the Company' s principal stockholder to support the Company' s operations.

As of June 30, 2020 and 2019, we had a total outstanding principal and accrued interest of $256,132 and $129,958, and $256,132 and $104,347, respectively, due to Longhai. The unsecured promissory note bears an interest of 10% per annum and is payable on demand.

Our future capital requirements will depend on numerous factors including, but not limited to, the establishment and development of our travel services in China. We have relied on financing from our principal stockholder and expect to continue to depend on financing from our principal stockholder to meet our current minimal operating expenses. As we are a start-up company, our operating expenses are limited and discretional based on the availability of its funds. Management believes that the financing from our majority stockholder will support our planned operations over the next 12 months.

In connection with our new business plan, management anticipates operating expenses and capital expenditures relating to: (i) developmental expenses associated with a start-up business and (ii) marketing expenses will be funded primarily by debt or equity financings from our majority stockholder. However, there is no assurance that such funds will be available or available on acceptable terms. If adequate funds are not available or are not available on acceptable terms, we may not be able to take advantage of prospective new business endeavors or opportunities, which could significantly and materially restrict our business operations.

Commitments and Capital Expenditures

We presently have no material commitments for capital expenditures.

Critical Accounting Policies Involving Management Estimates and Assumptions

Our discussion and analysis of our financial condition and results of operations is based on our financial statements. In preparing our financial statements in conformity with U.S. GAAP, we must make a variety of estimates that affect the reported amounts and related disclosures.

Deferred Tax Valuation Allowance

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognized for the future tax consequences attributable to differences between the financial statements carrying amounts of existing assets and liabilities and their respective tax bases. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using enacted tax rates expected to apply to taxable income in the years in which those temporary differences are expected to be recovered or settled. Valuation allowances are established when necessary to reduce deferred tax assets to the amount more likely than not to be realized. Income tax expense is the total of tax payable for the period and the change during the period in deferred tax assets and liabilities.

Off-Balance Sheet Arrangements

We do not have any relationships with unconsolidated entities or financial partnerships, such as entities often referred to as structured finance or special purpose entities, which would have been established for the purpose of facilitating off-balance sheet financial arrangements.

ITEM 7A. QUANTITATIVE AND QUALITATIVE DISCLOSURES ABOUT MARKET RISK

NOTE 2 - SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Basis of Presentation

The Company's financial statements have been prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States of America ("U.S. GAAP").

Use of Estimates and Assumptions

Preparation of the financial statements in conformity with U.S. GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect certain reported amounts and disclosures. Accordingly, actual results could differ from those estimates. The Company has adopted the provisions of ASC 260. The Company currently does not have significant estimates and assumptions.

Stock-Based Compensation

The Company will follow Accounting Standards Codification (“ASC”) 718-10, Stock Compensation, which addresses the accounting for transactions in which an entity exchanges its equity instruments for goods or services, with a primary focus on transactions in which an entity obtains employee services in share-based payment transactions. ASC 718-10 requires measurement of the cost of employee services received in exchange for an award of equity instruments based on the grant-date fair value of the award (with limited exceptions). Incremental compensation costs arising from subsequent modifications of awards after the grant date must be recognized. The Company has not adopted a stock option plan and has not granted any stock options.

Loss per Share

Net loss per common share is computed pursuant to ASC 260-10-45. Basic and diluted net loss per common share has been calculated by dividing the net income for the period by the basic and diluted weighted average number of common shares outstanding. There were no dilutive shares outstanding as of June 30, 2020 and 2019.

Taxation

Current income taxes are provided on the basis of net profit for financial reporting purposes, adjusted for income and expense items which are not assessable or deductible for income tax purposes, in accordance with the regulations of the relevant tax jurisdictions.

Deferred income taxes are recognized for temporary differences between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their reported amounts in the consolidated financial statements, net operating loss carry forwards and credits. Deferred tax assets are reduced by a valuation allowance when, in the opinion of management, it is more likely than not that some portion or all of the deferred tax assets will not be realized. Current income taxes are provided in accordance with the laws of the relevant taxing authorities. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using enacted rates expected to apply to taxable income in which temporary differences are expected to be reversed or settled. The effect on deferred tax assets and liabilities of changes in tax rates is recognized in the statement of comprehensive income in the period of the enactment of the change.

The Company considers positive and negative evidence when determining whether a portion or all of its deferred tax assets will more likely than not be realized. This assessment considers, among other matters, the nature, frequency and severity of current and cumulative losses, forecasts of future profitability, the duration of statutory carry-forward periods, its experience with tax attributes expiring unused, and its tax planning strategies. The ultimate realization of deferred tax assets is dependent upon its ability to generate sufficient future taxable income within the carry-forward periods provided for in the tax law and during the periods in which the temporary differences become deductible. When assessing the realization of deferred tax assets, the Company has considered possible sources of taxable income including (i) future reversals of existing taxable temporary differences, (ii) future taxable income exclusive of reversing temporary differences and carry-forwards, (iii) future taxable income arising from implementing tax planning strategies, and (iv) specific known trend of profits expected to be reflected within the industry.

The Company recognizes a tax benefit associated with an uncertain tax position when, in its judgment, it is more likely than not that the position will be sustained upon examination by a taxing authority. For a tax position that meets the more-likely-than-not recognition threshold, the Company initially and subsequently measures the tax benefit as the largest amount that the Company judges to have a greater than 50% likelihood of being realized upon ultimate settlement with a taxing authority. The Company’ s liability associated with unrecognized tax benefits is adjusted periodically due to changing circumstances, such as the progress of tax audits, case law developments and new or emerging legislation. Such adjustments are recognized entirely in the period in which they are identified. The Company’ s effective tax rate includes the net impact of changes in the liability for unrecognized tax benefits and subsequent adjustments as considered appropriate by management. The Company classifies interest and penalties recognized on the liability for unrecognized tax benefits as income tax expense.

There were no current and future income tax provision recorded for the years ended June 30, 2020 and 2019 since the Company is a shell company and did not generate any revenues in the two fiscal periods.

Subsequent Events

The Company follows the guidance in ASC 855-10-50 for the disclosure of subsequent events. The Company evaluates subsequent events from the date of the balance sheet through the date when the financial statements are issued. Pursuant to Accounting Standards Update (“ASU”) 2010-09 of the Financial Accounting Standards Board (“FASB”) ASC, the Company as an SEC filer considers its financial statements issued when they are widely distributed to users, such as through filing them with the SEC on the EDGAR system.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements

The Company has reviewed the following recent accounting pronouncements and concluded that they were either not applicable or had no impact to the Company' s financial statements:

In May 2014, the FASB issued ASU 2014-09, Revenue from Contracts with Customers (Topic 606), to clarify the principles of recognizing revenue and create common revenue recognition guidance between U.S. GAAP and International Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRS"). The transition provisions in ASC Topic 606 require that a public business entity and certain other specified entities adopt ASC Topic 606 for annual reporting periods beginning after December 15, 2017, including interim reporting periods within that reporting period. All other entities are required to adopt ASC Topic 606 for annual reporting periods beginning after December 15, 2018, and interim reporting periods within annual reporting periods beginning after December 15, 2019. The amendment is not applicable to the Company since the Company is still a shell company and does not generate revenue.

In February 2016, the FASB issued ASU 2016-02, Leases (Topic 842). The core principle of Topic 842 is that a lessee should recognize the assets and liabilities that arise from leases. A lessee should recognize in the balance sheet a liability to make lease payments (the lease liability) and a right-of-use asset representing its right to use the underlying asset for the lease term. For leases with a term of 12 months or less, a lessee is permitted to make an accounting policy election by class of underlying asset not to recognize lease assets and lease liabilities. If a lessee makes this election, it should recognize lease expense for such leases generally on a straight-line basis over the lease term. ASU 2016-02 is effective for fiscal years and interim periods within those years beginning after December 15, 2018. Early adoption is permitted. The Company does not expect that the adoption of the standard to have an impact on the Company' s financial statements.

In June 2016, the FASB amended guidance related to impairment of financial instruments as part of ASU 2016-13 Financial Instruments—Credit Losses (Topic 326): Measurement of Credit Losses on Financial Instruments, which will be effective January 1, 2020. The guidance replaces the incurred loss impairment methodology with an expected credit loss model for which a Group recognizes an allowance based on the estimate of expected credit loss. The Company does not expect that the adoption of the standard to have an impact on the Company' s financial statements.

In November 2016, the FASB issued ASU 2016-18, Statement of Cash Flows (Topic 230) ("ASU 2016-18"). This ASU affects all entities that have restricted cash or restricted cash equivalents and are required to present a statement of cash flows under Topic 230. ASU 2016-18 requires that a statement of cash flows explain the change during the period in the total of cash, cash equivalents, and amounts generally described as restricted cash or restricted cash equivalents. This update will become effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2018, and interim periods within fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2019, and early adoption is permitted in any interim or annual period. The adoption of the guidance does not have impact to the Company' s statement of cash flows as the Company does not have restricted cash or restricted cash equivalents.

In January 2016, the FASB issued ASU 2016-01, Financial Instruments-Overall: Recognition and Measurement of Financial Assets and Financial Liabilities. The new guidance will impact the accounting for equity investments, financial liabilities under the fair value option, and the presentation and disclosure requirements for financial instruments. In addition, the FASB clarified the need for a valuation allowance on deferred tax assets resulting from unrealized losses on available-for-sale debt securities. The accounting for other financial instruments, such as loans, investments in debt securities, and financial liabilities not under the fair value option is largely unchanged. The standard is effective for public business entities for annual periods (and interim periods within those annual periods) beginning after December 15, 2017. For all other entities, it is effective for fiscal years beginning after 15 December 2018, and interim periods within fiscal years beginning after 15 December 2019. The Company adopted the guidance from its fiscal year beginning on April 1, 2019 and the adoption of the standard did not have significant impact on the Company' s financial statements.

In February 2016, FASB issued ASU No. 2016-02, "Leases (Topic 842)" , ASC 842, and subsequently amended the guidance relating largely to transition considerations under the standard in July 2018. The new guidance, which creates new accounting and reporting guidelines for leasing arrangements, requires organizations that lease assets to recognize assets and liabilities on the balance sheet related to the rights and obligations created by those leases, regardless of whether they are classified as finance or operating leases. Consistent with current guidance, the recognition, measurement, and presentation of expenses and cash flows arising from a lease primarily will depend on its classification as a finance or operating lease. The guidance also requires new disclosures to help financial statement users better understand the amount, timing, and uncertainty of cash flows arising from leases. The new standard is effective for public business entities for annual reporting periods beginning after December 15, 2018, including interim periods within that reporting period, with early application permitted. In March 2019, the FASB issued ASU 2019-01, Leases (Topic 842) Codification Improvements, which further clarifies the determination of fair value of the underlying asset by lessors that are not manufacturers or dealers and modifies transition disclosure requirements for changes in accounting principles and other technical updates. The amendments in ASU 2019-01 amend Topic 842 and the effective date of those amendments is for fiscal years beginning December 15, 2019, and interim periods within those fiscal years for public business entities. For all other entities, ASC 842 is effective for annual periods beginning after December 15, 2020. The Company is currently evaluating the impact of the new pronouncement on its financial statements but does not expect it to have as impact upon adoption since the company does not currently have any leases.

NOTE 3 - RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

As of June 30, 2020 and 2019, the Company had a total outstanding principal and accrued interest of $256,132 and $129,958, and $256,132 and $104,347, respectively, due to Longhai. The unsecured promissory note bears an interest of 10% per annum and is payable on demand. The accrued interests as of June 30, 2020 and 2019 were recorded and included in "Accounts Payable and Accrued Expenses" on the balance sheets.

During the year, the Company also received total capital contributions in the amount of $42,578 from its former principal stockholder and current principal stockholder for working capital uses.

NOTE 4 - GOING CONCERN

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared on the basis of accounting principles applicable to a "going concern," which assumes that the Company will continue in operation for at least one year and will be able to realize its assets and discharge its liabilities in the normal course of operations.

Several conditions and events raise substantial doubt as to the Company's ability to continue as a "going concern." The Company has an accumulated deficit of $9,210,393 as of June 30, 2020, a working capital deficit and does not have revenues. The Company requires additional financing in order to finance its business activities on an ongoing basis. The Company's future capital requirements will depend on numerous factors including, but not limited to, continued progress in the pursuit of business opportunities. The Company is depending on financing from its principal stockholder to meet its minimal operating expenses. As the Company is a shell company, its operating expenses are limited. Management believes that the financing from its principal stockholder will provide it with the opportunity to continue as a "going concern."

These financial statements do not reflect adjustments that would be necessary if the Company were unable to continue as a "going concern." While management believes that the actions already taken or planned will mitigate the adverse conditions and events which raise doubt about the validity of the "going concern" assumption used in preparing these financial statements, there can be no assurance that these actions will be successful. If the Company were unable to continue as a "going concern," then substantial adjustments would be necessary to the reported amounts of its liabilities, the reported expenses and the balance sheet classifications used.

NOTE 5 – SHARE CAPITAL

There are no transactions of common shares, warrants and stock options during the years ended June 30, 2020 and 2019, respectively.

NOTE 6 – SUBSEQUENT EVENTS

Management has evaluated subsequent events pursuant to the requirements of ASC Topic 855, from the balance sheet date through the date the financial statements were issued, and determined that no subsequent events occurred that would require adjustment to or disclosure in the financial statements.

ITEM 9. CHANGES IN AND DISAGREEMENTS WITH ACCOUNTANTS ON ACCOUNTING AND FINANCIAL DISCLOSURE.

None.

ITEM 9A. CONTROLS AND PROCEDURES.

Disclosure controls and procedures include, without limitation, controls and procedures designed to ensure that information required to be disclosed in our reports filed or submitted under the Exchange Act is accumulated and communicated to our Certifying Officer or persons performing similar functions, as appropriate, to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosure.

Under the supervision of our Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer (the "Certifying Officer"), the Company has evaluated the effectiveness of the design and operation of our disclosure controls and procedures as defined in Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e) under the Exchange Act. Based on the foregoing, our Certifying Officer concluded that our disclosure controls and procedures were not effective as of the end of the period covered by this Report due to the material weakness in our internal control over financial reporting discussed below.

Management's Report on Internal Controls over Financial Reporting

Management is responsible for establishing and maintaining adequate internal control over our financial reporting. In order to evaluate the effectiveness of internal control over financial reporting, as required by Section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act. In making this assessment, management used the criteria set forth by the Committee of Sponsoring Organizations of the Treadway Commission ("COSO") in Internal Control-Integrated Framework. A material weakness is a deficiency or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control over financial reporting, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the company's annual or interim financial statements will not be prevented or detected on a timely basis. The Company has identified the following material weaknesses, which are indicative of many small companies with small staff, as of June 30, 2020: (i) lack of proper segregation of duties and risk assessment process; (ii) lack of formal documentation in internal controls over financial reporting; and (iii) lack of independent directors and an audit committee.

Because of these material weaknesses, management has concluded that the Company did not maintain effective internal control over financial reporting as of June 30, 2020, based on the criteria established in "2013 Internal Control-Integrated Framework" issued by COSO.

This annual report does not include an attestation report of the company's independent registered public accounting firm regarding internal control over financial reporting. Management's report was not subject to attestation by the company's registered public accounting firm pursuant to temporary rules of the SEC that permit the company to provide only management's report.

Changes in Internal Control over Financial Reporting

There were no changes in our internal control over financial reporting during the fiscal quarter ended June 30, 2020 that have materially affected, or are reasonably likely to materially affect, our internal control over financial reporting.
